NETSTREAMS' NAMES REGIONAL SALES MANAGERS

FOR ROCKY MOUNTAIN, SOUTHWEST AND GREAT PLAINS

AUSTIN, Texas – May 10, 2006 -- NetStreams[®], the undisputed world leader in digital entertainment systems based on Internet protocol (IP) technology, announced the appointment of two new regional sales managers, one for the Southwest and Great Plains territories, and one for the Rocky Mountain territory

According to Sophia Avery, NetStreams' vice president of sales, Steve Motz will represent both the Southwest and Great Plains as its new regional sales manager, while Dan Fisher has been named the new regional sales manager for the Rocky Mountain territory.

"We are pleased to be bringing on experienced sales executives with core competencies in the technologies and sales channels that figure prominently in the growth plans for NetStreams," said Avery.

As the regional sales manager for both the Southwest, Motz will handle NetStreams residential sales in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa. Motz has over 10 years of outside business-to-business and consumer products sales experience, including stints at LG Electronics Corp. and Aiwa America, Inc.
